IMMUNIZATION REGISTRY NEWS from AMERICAN IMMUNIZATION REGISTRY ASSOCIATION (AIRA)

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Dear Colleagues,

The world of immunization information systems (IIS) is one of rapid change, and the AIRA board is not immune. Two valuable members of AIRA's Executive Committee have recently left. Belinda Baker, the IIS manager from the state of Washington, retired and resigned as AIRA's treasurer, and Michelle Hood, the NESIIS coordinator at the Nebraska Department of Health & Human Services, resigned as immediate past president to pursue other career opportunities. Both Belinda and Michelle contributed extensively to AIRA's leadership and deserve our thanks for their hard work.

We are fortunate to have filled the two executive committee vacancies with extremely qualified and dedicated members of the IIS community. In April, Megan Meldrum became AIRA's new treasurer. Megan has been with the New York State Immunization Information System since 2008 and is a current AIRA board member, working closely with Amanda Dayton to monitor contracts and AIRA's budget. She is also a member of the Standards and Interoperability Steering Committee and the Modeling of Immunization Registry Operations Workgroup (MIROW).

In May, Amy Metroka, director of the Citywide Immunization Registry and Vaccines for Children (VFC) Operations (NYC), filled the vacancy left by Michelle Hood and became AIRA's vice president. Amy previously served as AIRA's president and is currently a member of the Measurement for Assessment and Certification Workgroup and MIROW. Amy will fill the important role of chairing the Bylaws Committee. The bylaws are currently being reviewed to identify changes that both clarify roles and provide flexibility in a dynamic environment. Please take the time to review AIRA's current bylaws and forward any suggestions to Amy. Of course, any bylaw changes will come to the full AIRA membership for a vote.

A final board update: Elections are coming! Mandy Harris, as president elect, chairs the Nominating Committee. The committee needs your help in identifying candidates to represent your interests. For the fall elections, positions will be open for three directors, the president elect, and the treasurer. Please consider this opportunity. IIS in all stages of development need representation and a voice in the community.

See you in Utah for the AIRA 2018 National Meeting!

Kim Salisbury-Keith, MBA
